CONDITIONAL ORDER FOR NEW TRIAL

On this the 19th day of August 2011, came the defendants and their counsel requesting this Court for the opportunity to enter a negotiated plea in these matters, and the Court does find and order the following:

- 1. This matter is currently before the Court as a result of Opinions and Orders issued by the Arkansas Supreme Court on November 4, 2010, as they relate to the above Defendants in this matter. Those orders instructed that the Court "shall hear Echols's motion for a new trial and consider the DNA-test results 'with all other evidence in the case regardless of whether the evidence was introduced at trial' to determine if Echols has 'establish[ed] by compelling evidence that a new trial would result in acquittal." Echols v. State, 210 Ark. 417 (2010). See also Baldwin v. State, 210 Ark. 412 (2010); Misskelley v. State, 210 Ark. 415 (2010). The language cited by the Arkansas Supreme Court is outlined in Ark. Code Ann. § 16-112-208(e)(3). This court finds that it has jurisdiction of the parties and issues herein.
- 2. In 2002, Defendants Echols and Baldwin filed, separately, motions for DNA testing under Ark. Code Ann. § 16-112-201, et seq. Subsequently, both Echols and Baldwin filed, separately, Petitions for Writs of Habeas Corpus under Ark. Code Ann § 16-112-201, et seq., alleging they were entitled to new trials based on forensic testing, and other matters. The trial court denied the - motions, and the defendants appealed. As stated above, the Arkansas Supreme Court reversed and remanded. The petitions are, therefore, properly before this Court.

- 3. The parties have advised the Court that they have agreed to a disposition of the petitions and that, if the Court vacates the convictions, the defendants will enter guilty pleas pursuant to North Carolina v. Alford, 400 U.S. 25 (1970) in order to resolve these cases. The parties further agree that the record before this Court is sufficient for the Court to grant or deny relief under the guidance of Echols v. State, in which the Arkansas Supreme Court directs the trial court to not only consider any DNA-test results but "all other evidence in this case . . . whether inculpatory or exculpatory, that is relevant to a determination of whether the petitioner[s] established, by compelling evidence, that a new trial would result in acquittal."
- 4. As to the negotiated pleas, the parties agree to the following conditions: a) the entry of guilty pleas to three counts of first-degree murder under the terms of Alford and Ark. R. Cr. Pro. 24.3 thru 24.6; b) the Court sentences all three defendants to time served, followed by a ten-year term of suspended imposition of sentence; c) the immediate release of the defendants from the Arkansas Department of Correction; d) that these conditions will be satisfied on Friday, August 19, 2011, and; e) the petitioners agree to dismiss any and all outstanding claims and proceedings relating to this matter, including, but not limited to, the appeals from the denials of their petitions filed under Ark. R. Cr. P. 37 presently pending before the Arkansas Supreme Court and the habeas corpus action filed by Defendant Echols in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Arkansas. Further, the parties agree that that the recommended disposition is contingent on the acceptance of the same terms by Separate Defendant Misskelley in State of Arkansas v. Jessie Misskelley, No. CR 93-47 (Clay County, Western Division, Criminal Division). The parties further agree that the failure of any of these five conditions by any of these defendants, or the Separate Defendant Misskelley, or by the State of Arkansas, will result in the setting aside of the grant of new trials without further order of this Court; and, any findings.

orders, or statements by the Court expressly or implicitly setting aside the previous convictions and/or granting new trials for all three defendants will be completely rescinded.

5. The Court finds that all three defendants, with respective defense counsel in attendance, consent to and request this Court to set aside the previous verdicts and set all three cases for a new trial for the purpose of allowing all three defendants to enter the negotiated pleas discussed herein.

The parties all note, and the Court agrees, that Act 1780 of 2001, under which these petitions were filed, contained a strong equitable component permitting a disposition "as may be appropriate," and this language was retained in the 2005 revisions. It is in the context of this legislative authorization that this Court analyzes and accepts this resolution.

6. The Court finds that the State of Arkansas only consents the setting aside of all judgments of conviction and the entry of orders of a new trial for each of the three defendants for the purpose of allowing all three defendants to immediately enter the negotiated pleas discussed herein.

7. The Court finds that, although compelling evidence exists that a new trial would result in an acquittal, there is also sufficient evidence of a jury to find guilt beyond a reasonable doubt. The Court has advised in open court all three defendants, and their respective defense counsel, that the Court also retains jurisdiction to rescind and hold void the setting aside of the previous judgments of conviction and setting for new trials if the conditions upon which these are based are not met.

All three defendants and their counsel acknowledge their agreement with the Court.
